Iconic Chef

Santi Santamaría

*Can Fabes
Spain*

Hosted at Grand Hyatt Singapore

Taste is the ultimate measure of a dish. Behind this apparently simple belief of Santi Santamaría lies a cuisine so elaborate that every creation is an expression of emotions, culture and sensations. Deeply inspired by his Catalan heritage and traditions, Santamaría carefully transforms the diverse range of ingredients from its purest form into simple yet magnificent expressions of flavours. Completely self-taught; Santamaría never worked in any other restaurant in his life. He honed and refined his technical skills by learning from the people who worked with him and taking extensive gastronomic trips throughout Europe. In 1995, Santamaría became the first chef in Catalonia to receive three-Michelin-star, an extraordinary achievement in the gastronomy world and a definite indication of greatness as one of the icons of Catalan cuisine.
